LOCAL FAMILY SUFFERS HEAVILY THROUGH FIRE

Fire of unknown origin at an early hour on Wednesday destroyed the barn and chicken house of Augusto Peresini, near the cement plant, together with contents, including two milking cows, about seventy chickens and several tons of hay. The flames were not discovered till they had gained such headway that they could not be checked. A fire alarm was rung in, but by the time firemen were ready for action the buildings were reduced to smouldering ruins. With difficulty, the family residence near by was saved.

The loss to Mr. Peresini at this time is a very serious one. He has a family of five small children, and the family were largely dependent upon the returns from the cows and chickens.

We understand that no insurance was carried.

OFFICERS OF VIMY CHAPTER, ORDER EASTERN STAR, INSTALLED

The installation of officers of Vimy Chapter No. 52, O.E.S., was held in the lodge hall, Blairmore, at the regular meeting of the Chapter held Monday evening, January 18. Visitors were present from Castleview Chapter, Pincher Creek; Minerva Chapter, Coleman; and Ballerast Chapter, Hillcrest.

At the close of the business meeting, Sister Annie I. Chappell, grand chaplain of the Grand Chapter of Alberta, presided as grand installing officer, assisted by Sister Annie Davis, past matron, acting as grand installing marshal; Sister Jeanie Pinkney, past matron, as grand chaplain, and Sister Gladys Bannan as organist.

The installation ceremony was made very impressive by the beautiful vocal solos rendered. After the worthy matron elect was installed, Sister Bannan sang, "I shall not pass again this way." After the chaplain was installed, Sister Steves sang very beautifully "Thanks be to God," and after installation of the star points, Sister Bannan sang feelingly "The Easterner's Song."

After the new worthy matron, Sister Granger, assumed her station, she presented Sister Murray, retiring matron, with her past matron's jewel, in a bouquet of carnations, from the Chapter as a token of love and remembrance of her year of service as worthy matron. In accepting this gift, Sister Murray suitably replied.

Sister Harper, conductress of Vimy Chapter, presented Sister Chappell, grand installing officer, also Sister Davis and Pinkney, with beautiful bouquets of carnations, tokens of love and esteem from the Chapter. These sisters suitably replied.

The officers elected and appointed to preside over Vimy Chapter for the ensuing year are as follows: Sister M. Granger, worthy matron; Bro. A. E. Ferguson, retiring patron (elected); Sister E. Moore, associate matron; Bro. W. Lord, P.P., associate patron; Sister L. Hewitt, re-elected secretary; Sister M. Morgan, treasurer; Sister B. Harper, conductress; Sister K. Turner, associate conductress; Sister J. Pinkney, P.M., chaplain; Sister E. Comfort, marshal; Sister L. Steves, organist; Sister G. Bannan, Adah; Sister M. Johnson, Ruth; Sister A. Drake, Esther; Sister M. MacPherson, Martha; Sister M. Campbell, Electa; Sister M. Whitehead, Warder; Bro. W. H. Chappell, P. P., sentinel.

Sister Jean L. Ferguson acted as secretary for the installation. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Through the National Institute of the Blind, Drumheller councillors hope to initiate a movement for the reduction of the age of old age pensioners from 70 to 60 years in the case of totally or partially blind citizens.

THE RELIEF CAMPAIGN

The canvass has been completed, and the committee are pleased to report that over $825 in cash and pledges for goods at stores in Blairmore have been received, together with donations of fuel and other supplies, as well as donations of used, yet useful clothing, etc.

Good used clothing is badly needed, and all donations will be gratefully received. Anyone having such, if they will communicate with Mr. F. M. Thompson or Mr. G. J. Tompkins, arrangements will be made to collect and turn same in to the Ladies' Auxiliary for distribution.

The call is urgent, as clothing is needed in many cases, and funds available will not meet the situation for clothing as well as food.

Many cases for relief have been supplied, and anyone requiring relief should make application to either Mr. Thompson or Mr. Tompkins.

The Relief Committee meets each Wednesday afternoon, but urgent cases are taken care of as they arise.

CROW'S NEST PASS BONSPIEL

Twenty-four rinks and eight sheets of ice provided attraction for people of The Pass at the Crow's Nest Pass bonspiel at Coleman this week. Cranbrook and Fernie were each represented by four rinks. Thespiel will likely conclude today and the silver will then be distributed. A very noticeable feature of this year'sspiel is that most of the rinks carry their chaplain with them, so that the looked for extreme English of the game had to be considerably modified. Coleman left nothing undone towards giving the visitors a real volume of entertainment. Ice was in good condition and "refreshments" were available at any time. The annual banquet was held at the Grand Union hotel last night, at which a splendid programme of speeches and music was carried out.

PROPOSE UNION GOVERNMENT FOR THE PRAIRIES

Winnipeg, Man.—Canada's prairie west gnawed Thursday night, Jan. 14, on a new economic morsel, brought to it by the Progressive Premier of Manitoba, Hon. John Bracken, from the sick-room where he is confined with a severe cold.

It was a suggestion that this province take the lead in bringing about amalgamation of the governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta into a single unit to administer government for all three provinces. The saving would be "millions of dollars" within a few years, Premier Bracken said.

An indication that the scheme had received considerable support in the inter-provincial conference at Edmonton two weeks ago, was given by Premier J. T. Anderson, head of Saskatchewan's Co-Operative Government, in commenting at Regina on the Bracken proposal. "Personal opinions expressed there were favorable," he remarked.

The Edmonton conference was attended by Mr. Anderson, Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta, and Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General for Manitoba. Thursday, Jan. 14, Premier Brownlee said: "The proposal was discussed and undoubtedly it has certain attractions the chief of them being the savings that would result from one administration instead of three."

He thought the saving might run from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 a year in government administration on the prairies. "Practically, however, the advantage would be that the prairies would speak with one voice on all Dominion matters, whereas now they sometimes speak with different voices owing to the political views held by the three governments."

Premier Bracken's suggestion made in a statement which he issued at his home and prompted by the action Wednesday, Jan. 13, of a special committee of the Manitoba legislature on redistribution in giving unfavorable consideration to a proposal that the number of legislative seats be reduced from 55 to 35, marked the first serious expression of opinion by a western government head on a proposal strongly supported a year ago by farm bodies in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Just two months ago Mr. Bracken remarked "interesting if feasible" when the suggestion was advanced by A. J. MacAuley, president of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, at the annual convention of United Farmers of Manitoba.

In his statement, addressed to the committee on redistribution, the Premier expressed disappointment that the seat reduction plan had been turned down. Cost of the next legislative session "must be reduced," he declared.

"Personally I would like to see the committee go even further in the direction of economy than has been proposed," the statement noted. In proposing that it consider a one-party government plan, Mr. Bracken said he thought its operation would be particularly advantageous to western Canada during the present depression.

Favors Quota System

Would Aid Saskatchewan Agriculture Says J. D. McFarlane

Saskatoon, Sask.—Establishment of a quota system between Canada and Great Britain for wheat was suggested as one of the great hopes for Saskatchewan agriculture by J. D. McFarlane, president of the Saskatchewan Agricultural Societies' Association in presenting his annual report. He also believed in cancellation of war debts and a change in the system of obtaining credit by the countries of the world.

British Girl Says Gandhi's Campaign Should Be Carried On

Ahmedabad, India.—Miss Madeline Slade, daughter of a British admiral, has made a plea to Indian Nationalists to carry on the civil disobedience campaign of Mahatma Gandhi. "Now that Gandhi's voice is silenced behind prison walls," she said, "it is all the more our sacred duty to carry out his dearest wish—spinning and weaving homespun."

Condemns Protection Policy

Hon. Mackenzie King Asks Government To Modify Position On Tariff

Winnipeg, Man.—With the declaration that, speaking generally, if returned to power tomorrow the Liberal Party would restore the tariff levels which were in effect when it went out of office, Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal Leader, condemned the protectionist policy of the present administration. He made a plea for action by members of parliament with a view to securing modification by the government of its position on the tariff in order that the coming Imperial Economic Conference might not prove the "fiasco" which that of 1930 had been.

The Liberal leader spoke at a large banquet which marked the close of the annual meeting of the Manitoba Liberal Association. An enthusiastic reception was accorded him, and at the conclusion of the meeting he was the central figure at an informal gathering where hundreds of those present were introduced.

His speech, first of the new year, contained strong criticism of the government on the grounds of waste and extravagance in the conduct of unemployment relief. It demanded why a tariff board had not been appointed. At a time of fluctuating exchanges and depreciated currencies such a board would have been valuable. The tariff had been passed at the last session.

But it was in connection with the railway situation that the Liberal leader voiced his strongest protest. The holding of secret sittings by the commission on transportation which is at present meeting in eastern Canada, he condemned in the most definite terms. "Wholly indefensible" was the phrase used by Mr. King in dealing with these secret sittings.

The Canadian National was not to be made "the scapegoat for the condition of next spring's legislative elections may hinge, is young Pierre Cathala, a disciple of Laval and Tardieu.

To succeed Tardieu in the agriculture Department, which controls and cares for France's great rural population, the Premier selected Achille Fould, young former under-secretary, who was given ministerial rank.

Governor-General

Postpones Visit

Trip To Western Canada Will Be Made Next Autumn

Ottawa, Ont.—The Governor-General has postponed until next autumn his trip through western Canada, it was announced Wednesday night, January 13, at Rideau Hall. Originally planned for the spring, the trip now will be made in time to enable Lord Bessborough to attend the Canadian Pacific Exhibition in Vancouver next fall.

Except for one or two brief excursions to Toronto and Montreal, the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough will remain in Ottawa for the parliamentary session. It will be the first session opened officially by Lord Bessborough.

Lady Bessborough will leave for England at the end of February for a short visit. Subject to the date of the Ottawa Imperial Conference, the Governor-General expects to take up his summer residence in Quebec City at the beginning of June.

Geneva Conference

Organizations Think War Veteran Should Be One Of Delegates

Toronto, Ont.—Inclusion of Lieut. Col. George A. Drew in the Canadian delegation to the Geneva Conference in February is being aimed at by a number of organizations bringing their influence to bear on the Government at Ottawa in this regard, "the Mail and Empire states it has been authoritatively learned.

"Those behind the move," the paper states, "are understood to be Canadian Legion executives and a number of kindred organizations desirous of having among the Canadian delegates one man who took an active part in the Great War."

Rumor Is Denied

Edmonton, Alberta.—Rumors that Premier Brownlee will sever connections with the Alberta for an Ottawa post are not treated with much consideration here. The legislature is due to open February 4. There is even indication of a cabinet shake-up.

Manitoba Farmers Need Aid

Appeal For Dominion Funds Made By Minister Of Agriculture

Winnipeg, Man.—An appeal for Dominion aid to hard-up farmers of Manitoba was made Wednesday, Jan. 13, by Hon. Albert Prefontaine, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, when he conferred with Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture in the Dominion Cabinet. The situation among farmers in Manitoba generally was just as desperate as those of other parts of Western Canada, he said.

Many farmers were facing destitution, continued Mr. Prefontaine, who said that aid in the shape of feed and seed grain was necessary for them to face another year. Unless feed was forthcoming many would be forced to part with their cattle, he said.

PIERRE LAVAL IS AGAIN PREMIER OF FRANCE

Paris, France.—Pierre Laval, sturdy little Auvergnat, again became head of the French Government as Premier in the reorganization of his cabinet.

He also took over the portfolio of Foreign Minister, held for so long by Aristide Briand, and induced his old-time friend and predecessor in the premiership, Andre Tardieu, to accept the post of Minister of War, vacated by the death of Andre Maginot.

Thus M. Tardieu will go to Geneva as France's principal representative to the disarmament conference on February 2.

Succeeding Premier Laval in the all-important post of Minister of the Interior, on which the outcome of next spring's legislative elections may hinge, is young Pierre Cathala, a disciple of Laval and Tardieu.

To succeed Tardieu in the agriculture Department, which controls and cares for France's great rural population, the Premier selected Achille Fould, young former under-secretary, who was given ministerial rank.

The French cabinet crisis, one of the briefest in the history of the third republic, thus was terminated. Premier Laval said he had urged M. Briand to participate in the work of the new cabinet in whatever capacity he felt able—presumably as minister without portfolio—so as to lend the weight of his moral influence to the incoming government's endeavor.

After reconstructing his cabinet, the Premier took the new members across the street from his office to the Elysee Palace to present them to President Dornier, in accordance with custom.

Reorganization of the cabinet was decided upon after the death of War Minister Maginot had caused one of the cabinet members to resign, and the illness of Mr. Briand, the veteran foreign minister, resulted in at least a temporary vacancy.

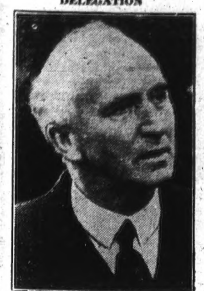

The Laval-Tardieu team is one well tried in foreign relations. Premier Laval, although a newcomer to the diplomatic game, was France's spokesman during the past summer and autumn in conversations at London, Berlin and Washington, and was the first premier to welcome a German chancellor on French soil since the war of 1870. M. Tardieu was his country's High Commissioner to the United States, in 1918, one of the drafters of the Treaty of Versailles in 1919 under Premier Georges Clemenceau, and a negotiator at the London Naval Conference in 1930.

JAPAN'S "OLD FOX" AND FAMILY

Here is the first intimate photograph of Mr. Inuyoshi Inukai, Premier of Japan, made as the statesman sat in his family circle, at their home in Tokyo. Left to right are Mrs. Inuyoshi Inukai, Premier Inukai, Mrs. Nekura Inukai, his daughter-in-law, and one of the Premier's many grandchildren. The venerable statesman rarely has the opportunity for family reunions when he is directing his country's Manchurian policy, so this photo may be regarded as distinctly unusual.

Cannot Hold Two Positions

Civil Servants Forbidden To Accept Municipal Appointments

Ottawa, Ont.—The Government has decided to allow Controllers Fulgence Charpentier and Daniel McCann to remain at their posts in the public service and also serve on the Board of Control for the balance of the year but will issue an order forbidding all government servants in future to accept municipal appointments, "the Journal says.

"The decision of the government forbidding all government employees to accept municipal positions is a general one so that it will affect postmasters serving in rural municipalities and all others paid from the Federal Treasury who aid the affairs of their community to their other activities.

"It is not expected the government's decision will affect municipal positions which are not elective and where no fees or salaries are paid such as on suburban roads commissions or on school boards.

"It is understood the aim of the cabinet is to prevent civil servants from drawing too salaries and also having their working hours interfered with by outside matters."

Senator Thinks Canada Is Over-Governed

Says There Are Too Many Government Employees

Hamilton, Ont.—Senator George Lynch-Staunton, K.C., declared in an address here there was no reason why people should suffer want "if we lived within our means."

Senator Lynch-Staunton said Canada was over-governed. "The government has interested itself in everything at the people's expense. Parasites swarm everywhere and every fifth person in Canada is the servant of one government or another."

Report Not Confirmed

Winnipeg, Man.—Officials at wheat pool headquarters here said they knew "nothing about" a report published in the Paris edition of the Chicago Tribune that France has agreed to buy 20,000,000 bushels of wheat from Canada. Canadian officials in Paris deny there is any truth in the report.

Ex-Kaiser's Sister Dies

Former Queen Sophie Of Greece Succumbs To Lingering Illness

Frankfurt-On-Main, Germany.—Former Queen Sophie of Greece, sister of former Kaiser Wilhelm, died at a clinic here after a lingering illness from cancer. She was 61 years old.

The one-time queen of the Hellenes, had lived in Florence, Italy, since the death of her husband, King Constantine, in exile at Palermo on January 11, 1923. She came to Frankfurt last November to seek the advice of a specialist, who operated on November 12, but found her ailment too far advanced for successful treatment.

During the last week, she underwent a series of relapses. Her children, George, Paul, Helen—Queen of Roumania—and Irene, were called to the bedside each time.

Meighen May Be Appointed To Senate

Likely To Succeed Late Sir George Foster In Report

Ottawa, Ont.—The Journal publishes the following: "The appointment of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, a former Prime Minister of Canada, to the Senate in succession to the late Sir George Foster, and also the naming of the former Conservative Leader to the position of government leader in the Upper House is being favorably considered by the government."

Hon. W. B. Willoughby is the present government leader in the Senate. During the last session Senator G. D. Robins, Minister of Labor, represented the government in the Senate and assisted in the leadership.

Trans-Atlantic Flight

R.C. Aviator Will Attempt Aeroplane Solo Flight Next Summer

Nelson, B.C.—Eric Redgrave-Gunner, of Fernie, B.C., who has announced his intention to attempt this summer a trans-Atlantic aeroplane solo flight, and also a trans-Canada flight from Montreal to Vancouver, is a pilot of many years experience, having taken up flying in 1914 before the outbreak of the war. He has received word of financial backing from England for his trans-Atlantic attempt.

A pre-war pilot in England, Redgrave-Gunner has been a commercial pilot and instructor in the Crown's Nest Pass cities of Fernie and Cranbrook. He was born in Alton, Hampshire, England, in 1896.

R. C. M. P. WILL ASSUME POLICING OF ALBERTA

Ottawa, Ont.—From April 1, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will assume the duties in Alberta now performed by the Alberta Provincial Police, according to an official announcement made here.

The agreement which will be made between the two governments—Provincial and Federal—will be on the basis that as the mounted police have been in the Province since several years ago when the Royal Mounted absorbed the provincial police in its ranks.

Some three years ago the R.C.M.P. assumed the duty of policing Saskatchewan, taking over the work that had been formerly done by the Provincial Police there. An agreement was arrived at between the Dominion and the Province whereby the latter undertook to contribute a lump sum to the federal treasury over a period of years in order to defray the expenditures incurred in the arrangement. The proposal to extend this system to Alberta emanated from the province as a result of the success attending the working out of the agreement in Saskatchewan.

Winnipeg, Man.—Manitoba was prepared to consider any proposition leading to the policing of the whole Dominion by the Federal Government. Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General of Manitoba, told the Canadian Press.

He added that he had had no word from Ottawa about the matter nor had he been in conversation with Alberta. He said he could not predict what reception such a suggestion would get from Manitoba, but remarked that such a plan would save the provincial administration considerable money.

"At the present time the majority of the provinces in Canada are negotiating with the Dominion Government for the taking over of the policing of the provinces by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police."

BRITISH ADHERE TO FIRM POLICY PLAN FOR INDIA

London, England.—"So long as we are responsible for the government of India, we intend to govern," Rt. Hon. Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary of State for India, frankly declared during an interview here in which he discussed recent events in India.

He spoke to a large assembly of newspapermen, representing many nationalities, gathered at the India office. Now and again as he spoke of the success attending the government's efforts to maintain order he smilingly "touched wood."

In the "red shirt" movement in the northwest provinces; in the no-race campaign in the United Provinces, and in the terrorist campaign in Bengal a challenge had been flung at the government of India which it had to accept, Sir Samuel declared.

"We took the only action any self-respecting government could take," the Secretary of State added. "We took it drastically and we took it all at once."

Bombay, India.—With the government's ordinances still in effect Nationalist India faces adversity in commerce as a result of the "non-violent" civil disobedience campaign conducted by the Nationalists.

Since Mahatma Gandhi was imprisoned two weeks ago, the campaign has been without major disorder, but business has almost come to a standstill.

Sporadic manifestations against the government continue. A volunteer of the National Congress broke a leg in an attempt to haul down the Union Jack which flies from the top of the Congress headquarters, now in the possession of the police.

As he was climbing to the flag he was seen and challenged by a sentry. One of his legs was fractured in his attempt to escape. He was arrested and taken to a hospital.

Of minor interest was the imposition of a fine of 25 rupees each on four boys who had urged that their school at Surat be closed in protest against Gandhi's arrest.

The headquarters of the local branch of the Nationalist Congress at Lucknow was closed by authorities, and 40 persons, most of them volunteers, were arrested. Nationalist organizations in the Bengal district to the number of 27 were outlawed by officials at Calcutta.

In Favor Of Union

Manitoba Liberals Endorse Proposal Of Union Government For Manitoba

Winnipeg, Man.—Action of Dr. Murdoch, Provincial Liberal Leader, in approving Premier Bracken's proposal of a Union Government for Manitoba was endorsed by the Manitoba Liberal Association at its annual meeting here. Sharp opposition to the suggestion of the Liberal and Progressive forces in the Province was expressed but the proposal carried on a standing vote and an amendment to give it the traditional six-months' hoist was defeated.

Premier Bracken some months ago invited the suggestion of the Liberal and Progressive forces in the Province to join in the formation of a union government with cabinet representation for all. The invitation was rejected by the Conservative and Labor wings but the Opposition but accepted on behalf of the Liberals by Dr. Mackay who defended his stand at the convention, and was endorsed.

No Sunday Shows

Drop Proposal To Hold Moving Picture Shows On Sunday In Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Man.—Proposal to hold Sunday moving picture shows here, with revenues to be used for relief of unemployed, has been dropped. Mayor Ralph H. Webb said. Opposition to the plan had been expressed by many citizens, the mayor said, that he doubted if even the financial returns would be worthwhile.

Collections were to be taken at the theatres, four of which would put on shows Sunday nights after church services were over.

Lower Living Costs

Ottawa, Ont.—"Cost of living" index numbers, with very few exceptions, fell much faster in 1931 than in 1930, which may be taken as a favorable development. Wholesale and retail price levels must come closer together before a substantial improvement in business can be anticipated," says a report on price movements in 1931 issued recently by the Bureau of Statistics.

TO STABILIZE COAL INDUSTRY

Suggesting that government action may be taken during 1932 to stabilize the coal industry of the province, Premier John E. Brownlee, addressing delegates to the annual convention of the Alberta Federation of Labor on Tuesday afternoon at Drumheller, stated that the day was rapidly approaching when the men who headed the industry would be prepared to sit down with the government and discuss possible methods to place it on a sound basis.

In his address, Mr. Brownlee dealt at great length with the problem of unemployment before dealing with the problems confronting the miners and operators of the Drumheller valley.

The provincial premier pointed out that the reasons for the depressed condition of the coal industry were not hard to trace, and suggested that the recommendation of the U.M.W. of A., to the effect that a royal commission should be appointed to investigate conditions, while it would receive the serious consideration of the government, might not be necessary.

Since the government had taken over the natural resources, there had been a steadfast refusal to grant further leases and in some cases, leases had been cancelled. A ban had been placed on further examinations and miners' certificates.

Looking at the coal problem in the most optimistic light, he failed to see where increased business could result for some time, due to the decreased purchasing power in the prairie provinces. "I think the time has come when the study of the mining problem can be effected, however," he remarked.

After extending greetings to the delegates, Mr. Brownlee turned to the question of unemployment by remarking that he believed the problem would not be entirely solved for three or four years. "Canada is in a more fortunate position than other nations with an unemployment registration of approximately one per cent," he said, but he suggested that it would require the full co-operation of all classes to bring a return of more normal conditions.

While not attempting to vindicate the provincial government, he believed that the action taken to relieve unemployment would measure up, with the work of other provinces and was in advance of some. In cities alone, $50,000 per month was being expended in addition to large expenditures in smaller municipalities and municipal districts.

"The most difficult task to face is to convince the people that there is a limit to the finances of the government," Mr. Brownlee added, and continued: "Until a new system of finance and government can be instituted we are bound by the exigencies of the moment."

The causes of the present depression were many, but it did seem that some of the reasons were being overcome and were it not for the present international situation, the illusive corner would now have been reached.

Government financing, the speaker remarked, had been made extremely difficult in the past few months due to England going off the gold standard. In past years, Canada had developed largely on borrowed capital. Governments had been financed through bond issues on the American market, but today there was not one province in the Dominion which could float an issue in the United States.

This problem had to be met either by decreased expenditures or increased taxation. It was doubtful if loans could be obtained within Canada to carry the government through the present depression.

Financial men had become frightened and banks had made it only too clear that there was a distinct limit to the borrowing powers of the country.

"High finance is in the saddle today," the premier said, "and ruling very strongly." He estimated that those who were interested in the welfare of the country would have to watch their interests very carefully, unless all the plans made for the betterment of citizens were destroyed by his powerful influence.

The premier further intimated that direct relief would be the tendency of the government in future so that the problem of unemployment and its results could be handled over a period of two, or three years.—Drumheller Mail.

ROCKS AT BURMIS
ARE IRON-BEARING

An extremely interesting paper was given to the Science Association of the University of Alberta by Dr. J. A. Allan, head of the Department of Geology, recently.

Dr. Allan's paper was entitled, "Trilaminar Investigations in Alberta," and it dealt with the work done by the Geological Survey Division of the Research Council of Alberta in 1931, dealing particularly with the investigation of iron-bearing rocks in the Burmis district and gypsum beds in the Jasper Park. Dr. Allan pointed out that the occurrence of iron-bearing rocks in the Burmis district had been known since 1910, but a detailed survey of the extent of the deposits was only made in 1931. The outcrops and prospects were surveyed in order to obtain data as to the quantity. The iron-bearing beds were thoroughly sampled and analyses have been made from a number of these samples.

The analyses of twenty samples show that the metallic iron content ranges from 14 to 54 per cent. The silica content ranges from about 3 to 45 per cent. A noteworthy feature shown by the analyses is the presence of titanium oxide which ranges from 4 to 12 per cent. The iron occurs in sandstone beds of lower Belly River age. In places the iron is concentrated as represented by the analyses. The richer portions of these sandstone beds form the ore which is classed as siliceous titaniferous magnetite. The quantity of iron ore in these deposits is very small. This is considered an interesting occurrence of iron, but at the present time it cannot be regarded as a commercial deposit.—Ex.

POLICE MERGER IS NOT AN ECONOMY

It is interesting to learn that the proposed merger of Provincial and Dominion police will meet with some opposition from Mr. Brownlee's own U.F.A., when the question is dealt with at the forthcoming farmer convention.

When questioned on the matter, the provincial premier refuses to make any statement, but there is no doubt in the minds of many that Mr. Brownlee would, himself, be opposed to the proposal if he were acting as a free agent in the matter.

For some unknown political reason, however, the A.P.P. is to be sacrificed with the excuse that economies must be practised. It is reported that the Dominion government will police the province at a saving of $200,000 a year, but no statement is made as to how much additional Dominion taxation will be required to pay the deficit between the charge to the province and the actual cost of police work.

The more we view the proposal the more satisfied we are that the scrapping of the A.P.P. can be added to the price the province will pay for its loan from the Dominion government.—Drumheller Mail.

People of Corbin are wondering there are any more offers of free board and room going in Coleman, or must such privileges be given only to electrical surveyors.

AGED PAIR WIN STRIKE
GOING TO CALIFORNIA

"Dread upon the waters . . . bread upon the waters . . . bread upon the waters . . ." Mrs. Frieda Keeler murmured over and over again today. Her voice was tremulous. There was wonder in her blue eyes that have held so many tears and so little laughter in all of her 63 years.

Richard Keeler, five years older than his wife, sat beside her in the weather-beaten little frame dwelling at 1007 1/2 Friend ave., Maple Heights. He was tremulous, too, and his eyes were wide at the tremendous thing fortune had done to them.

"California," said Richard Keeler, "I always wanted to go there. It's warm and sunny there all the time . . . California."

And Mrs. Keeler fuffed her gray head on the lean shoulder of her husband, too happy to speak.

Fortune has been kind to the Keelers nearly all the years of their long lives. And then, last night, she smiled so suddenly and so generously that the Keelers are still dazed.

Life has been harsh to them. They are humble people. She was born in Carl ruh, Germany. He was born in Folkestone, England. They came to this country 40 years ago. They married.

Twenty-eight years ago, the couple scraped together their meagre savings to make the first payment on the tiny little frame house in Maple Heights. They saved and scrimped and paid off the mortgage, penny by penny.

Richard Keeler worked as a blacksmith at the McMillan Interstate Co., Bedford. Three years ago, the firm closed. Keeler was jobless. There was little work to be found for a man 65 years old, heavily though he was and hale.

They had taken a little orphan girl to raise and educate, Anna Helen Pelsch. Their savings dwindled and vanished, but they kept Anna with them. They loved the girl. She was 14 this year, and bright in school.

"A good girl," said Mrs. Keeler today, her eyes shining.

Christmas Eve the family had but $3 left. Then Mrs. Keeler entered an attendance contest, being held by the Loyal Order of Moose, of which her husband has been a member since 1915.

And she won first prize in the contest—$50.00.

Last night, Mrs. Keeler was given a check for that amount, standing very nervous and ill at ease upon the stage of Moose hall while hundreds of Cleveland Moose cheered.

J. Jack Stoehr, Moosehead representative, made the presentation. With him were W. Lee Provost, supervisor of organizers; Lawrence Gross, executive secretary; and Frederick R. Zihlman, supreme dictator, beamed beside him. Mrs. Keeler, with a supreme effort, made a speech.

"Bread upon the waters . . ." murmured Mrs. Keeler today.

"California . . ." said Richard Keeler. "They're going there Saturday, to spend three months.—The Cleveland News.

BISHOP OF THE ARCTIC
BE MADE VICAR APOSTOLIC

Bishop A. Tarquetti, known all over the continent as the "Bishop of the Arctic," recently left the shores of Hudson Bay and travelled over Canadian National Railways to Montreal, where he will soon be made Vicar Apostolic of Hudson Bay. He is at present Prefect Apostolic of this region and the latest honor to be bestowed on the veteran Roman Catholic churchman comes as the reward of more than thirty years of service in Canada's barren Arctic regions. He has probably the most unique diocese in the world, stretching from north of the 56th parallel right to the North Pole and covering an area of 1,652,659 square miles.

The annual financial statement and auditor's report for the Town of Blairmore will appear in our next week's issue.

CLIMBED FROM JUNIOR TO
HEAD OF ROYAL BANK

The following is quoted from a report issued from Montreal:

"C. E. Neill, vice-president and managing director of Royal Bank of Canada, died here at an early hour today. Mr. Neill was a widower, and had no children. He is survived by Ralph O. S. Neill, a brother, of Montreal, and John Neill, half-brother of Fredericton, N.B. Tentative arrangements were made for a funeral service here tomorrow. The remains are to be taken to Fredericton. Mr. Neill's birthplace, for burial.

Although the end had been expected, Mr. Neill's death came with a keen sense of loss to his friends and his colleagues in financial and banking affairs. His sound qualities as a banker had earned him an outstanding reputation. This was strikingly signified when he was elected president of the Bankers' Association for the year 1926-27.

His career exemplified the course of industry and prudence. Beginning as a junior in the bank at Fredericton, he gradually worked his way up to the position of managing director. He was manager at Vancouver, B.C., in 1900, when he was appointed supervisor of the British Columbia branches. His success led to his being transferred to Montreal in 1903 as the bank's chief inspector. Four days later he became assistant general manager. In 1916 he became general manager. In 1927 he was made vice-president, and in 1929 managing director.

His chief personal interest was in sports, both professional and amateur. He was an ardent golfer and a patron of many other sports. He was fond of hockey and was to be seen at most of the hockey matches in Montreal. In his earlier years, Mr. Neill was an excellent shot. He was a member of Canada's Bisley team in 1895 while in the 71st Regiment of Fredericton, N.B.

His eminence as a financier and business man was marked in 1924 when the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon him by the University of New Brunswick. In 1901, Mr. Neill married Mary Louise, daughter of the late John Crerar, K.C., of Hamilton, Ont. She died in 1927.

Mr. Neill was a director of the following companies: Montreal Trust Company, Sun Life Assurance Company, Northern Assurance Company, Dominion Bridge Company, Shawinigan Water and Power Company and Beauharnois Power Company. He was also a Governor of McGill University.

The annual convention of the Alberta School Trustees Association will be held in Central United church, Calgary, on February the 3rd, 4th and 5th. R. W. H. Pinkney, of the local school board, will attend.

CLAIMS POLICE ECONOMY
IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

VICTORIA, Jan. 18.—British Columbia would lose heavily if it were to turn its policing over to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Attorney-General Pooley declared in a statement issued here. His statement followed discussion of this proposal and an editorial in The Province which Mr. Pooley interpreted as carrying the inference that the province could save money by calling in the Federal police. Mr. Pooley said:

"The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, being anxious to police the province, undertook the policing of Saskatchewan at a figure which could not possibly pay them. They depended largely on making up their deficit by what they call 'recoverable accounts,' that is to say, they would charge the provincial government for the costs of special work they did for various departments.

"Now as far as the British Columbia police are concerned, the total cost of policing as shown in the estimates is, in a measure, misleading. A large proportion of this expense should not be charged to the police vote, but should be charged up to the different departments of the government to whom they render very extensive services. For instance, the provincial police patrol the coast during the fishing season and relieve the fisheries department of very heavy expense. If the police did not do this work it would simply mean that the fisheries department would have to do it at a considerably increased cost, so the government as a whole economies by getting the provincial police to take over this work, which entails the collection of fishery licenses for that department.

"Then again, a great deal of time of the police is taken up in looking into destitute cases, mothers' pension matters, inspection of camps under the 'Health Act,' noxious weeds in inspection, inspection of hotels, etc., under the 'Fire Marshal's Act,' and this is done gratis for the various departments; they also collect many license fees under different statutes; in fact, 35 or 40 per cent of the time of the police is taken up in doing this work for departments. If the Royal Canadian Mounted Police was doing this, the government of the province would be charged with this special work. The other alternative would be for each department to appoint special investigators and in the last analysis the cost to the province would be at least 50 per cent more than it is today.

"Again, approximately $14,000 of the police vote is expended by the motor branch, covering registrations, etc. All this would have to be taken over by a special department if the Royal Canadian Mounted Police were policing the province, and no savings could be made under this head.

"I may say that the other departments of the government service appreciate the work the police do for them, and recognize the amount of money the province saves by having work done in this way, and thereby avoiding duplication and overlapping of services."—Ex.

FLYING FREIGHTER
MAKES FIRST TRIP

JU-52, the largest flying freighter in the world, is now making its first trip with a payload. The huge Junkers, recently acquired by Canadian Airways Ltd., and chartered by the Hudson's Bay Company, will be engaged in freighting supplies to various points in Manitoba's northland, returning with cargoes of furs. The "flying boxcar" makes its northern base at Cold Lake on the Sheridon branch of the Canadian National railways, where it picks up supplies shipped there by rail. With its crew of four, the plane will be in the north country for a month before it returns to headquarters at Winnipeg.

British Columbia is the only part of Canada where apricots are grown commercially, and last year the crop amounted to around 49,000 bushels, an increase of 398 per cent.

"Bert" Maxwell, manager of the Terminal Service Station at Lethbridge, was shot through the shoulder by one of a pair of bandits on Monday evening, and the garage rifled to the extent of about twenty-five dollars. A good description of the pair was secured by the police and it is hourly expected they will be apprehended.

A hockey enthusiast, having been to see his team play a match which they had lost, was returning home downcast, accompanied by his small son. During the course of the game, the lad had asked the usual why and wherefores of his daddy, but things were brought to a climax when he piped: "Daddy, what becomes of a hockey player when he gets old, blind and deaf?" "They make a referee of him, son," was the laconic reply.

Coleman is making a bid for a detachment of the new Mounted Police force, claiming that from 1903, the year of the town's inception, till 1923, they had a local detachment of the Mounted Police. Coleman has a population, within and directly without the municipality bounds of around 2500 to 2700, besides eleven miles of territory between them and Crows' Nest, and we feel that Coleman is entitled to a detachment.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has announced the appointment of W. D. Neill as general manager of the railway's new department of communications, embracing all the railway's telegraph, telephone and radio resources. Mr. Neill entered the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway in March, 1905, as a telegraph operator at Calgary. In July, 1930, he was appointed assistant general manager at Montreal.

Of all the vices on earth, the one that is the most difficult to understand is the vice of gossip. For most crimes we can find some explanation, —for gossip there is no explanation, except depravity or insanity. How people can find enjoyment in making life hard for others is one of the eternal mysteries. The malicious activity of malicious tongues has caused more havoc in the world than any other one vicious act. The old saying that "a silent tongue makes a wise head" is a good maxim.

A preamble to a resolution of a meeting held at Drumheller, jointly by the Mine Workers' Union of Canada and the Workers' Unity League, drew attention to alleged efforts of operators to reduce the scale of wages and claimed that the recent relief measures of the "Bennett millionaire government" had been totally inadequate to deal with the question of unemployment. The resolution also called for an increase in wages to compensate for greatly reduced earnings, and for the setting of a fall expiration date for all new agreements.

During January, February and March, the principal shops of the Canadian National Railways will operate on a five-day week for three weeks of each month, commencing with the first Monday of every month. All the principal shops across Canada will be affected and, including laborers and clerks, the personnel concerned will number about 10,000 men. Previous to the beginning of this year the shops had been on a 36-hour week and the new time arrangement of forty hours per week for three weeks each month will bring about a reduction of approximately four days per month in working time.

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

About two hundred fans were treated to a real exhibition of hockey when the Corbin Cougars and Blairmore Miners clashed on Corbin ice on Sunday last. Although a cold wind swept the rink, nobody seemed to mind when the game went into overtime with a score of one-one. Vangotino, of Blairmore, opened the scoring in the first period, and although Corbin attacked time after time, led by Joyce and Selenki, they were unable to draw even, the period ending Corbin nil, Blairmore 1. The second period was noted mostly for scattered play and Corbin seemed to have the edge, but lacked finish round the net. Blairmore met with such solid defense that their play seemed scattered and was mostly one-man rushes. The score at end of second remained same. The third period opened with considerable tripping on both sides, which ended in penalties for rough work on the boards, Cecini being banished to the cooler for five minutes. With just seven minutes to go, Selenki tried successfully to score for Corbin and the game went into overtime periods, which failed to decide differently. At the end of the second overtime period the score stood 1-1. Penalties were awarded as follows: first period, Clifford, Hunger, one minute each; second period, Vangotino, two minutes, Clifford 1; third period, Cecini, five minutes. Following were the lineups: Blairmore—Rae, Vangotino, Vanduren, McAndrew, Blas, Grant, Cecini, Stewart and Chula. Corbin—Costa, Wilde, McVey, Selenki, Korman, Joyce, Hunger, Clifford, Hoffman. Referee, J. Falconer.

Fans are looking forward to seeing Fernie on Corbin ice next Sunday. Fernie has an unbeaten record so far this year, and Corbin hopes to break it.

WESTERN MARKSMAN

REMAINS SUPREME

The world-wide reputation for marksmanship established in the wild and woolly days of the west by the hard-driving, quick-shooting sons of the plains is being sustained by R. G. Pickrell, of the Canadian National Railways investigation department at Winnipeg, who has won the Canadian outdoor revolver, pistol and rapid fire championships for the fifth consecutive year. The crack marksman "pus on" some magnificent scores to gain large margins of victory in all the events. Pickrell also holds the American Revolver Championship and is considered one of the world's best revolver and pistol shots.

TEN CURLING COMMANDMENTS

The following ten commandments were posted in the Coleman curling rink on Monday for the benefit of the bonspielers, and we understand were strictly adhered to:

1. Thou shalt have no other game before me, for I am the roarin' game, which was in the beginning, (even in the stone age), is now and ever shall be.
2. Come not onto the ice with the old house broom, Thou canst not quicken the pace of a dying rock with a last year's broom.
3. Thou shalt learn thy turns, both the in and the out, for the skip will not hold him guiltless who throweth a wrong turn.
4. Play not a running stone when thou art asked for a guard, lest thou raise thine own shot, so sending thy skip in the air; such play getteth his goat, queereth his game, causeth him to swallow his gum, and to revile thee openly.
5. Thou shalt harken diligently to the defeated skip when his voice is lifted up in lamentation against the punk ice, and thou shalt not turn thy face from him when he blameth the third span. Even so shalt thou secure a listener against the day of thine own defeat.
6. Thou shalt not strew straw from thy broom in the path of thine own or thine adversaries' rock. Nor shalt thou put in front of them, causeth them to become pork, for even as C. Costello, J.P.; Mary Ann Harvey, J.P.; Rev. John T. MacDonald, J.P., and Rev. William Thomas Young, J.P. A. J. Snyder, J.P., of Cowley, has also been appointed.
7. Thou shalt not discourse with thine adversary while his foot is in the hack, and his hand is on the rock; but if thou wilt, thou canst pray for him.
8. Thou shalt not push or kick a rock into the house from behind stealthily, for the opposing skip will know of a surety and his anger will be kindled against thee, and he will rise up in righteous indignation over thee, and he will smite thee, even with the edge of a broom handle, and thrust thee hence from the sight of the curlers, and the days of thy curling will be ended, for this unpardonable sin.
9. Thou shalt not covet thy opponent's rock, nor his broom nor his head player. Neither shalt thou flinch from his third man who is his mainstay and wall of defence in the day of battle.
10. And when thou comest to the last end and hast won the game, and hast still a rock to play, and thou playest with great deliberation, and thy rock gambols down the ice, sailing jauntily round the guard and through the port, and wicket, the shot rock, and thou comest down the ice in fear and trembling, and art hailed by the enemy as a good sport and curler, and by thine own side with groans and murmurs, and find thou hast peddled the game away. Thou shalt find the proffered hand of thine adversary and wring it, even if in thine heart thou wish it were his neck.

KIMBERLEY'S MINING FUTURE

Few people living in Kimberley realize the vast amount of wealth produced from the Sullivan mine, the greatest of its kind on the American continent. We have become accustomed to taking things as they come without giving much thought to what mining means to the entire district. Of the total production of metals in the Kootenay district, as published recently, amounting to $15,317,309, approximately 90 per cent of that total came out of the Kimberley mine, a remarkable showing. While conditions are, nothing approaching normal, there is no real cause for pessimism. Kimberley will, with improved world conditions, get back to its high wage and high production, which will mean a constant flow of wealth, resulting in prosperity again extending over a period of years. The average number of men employed in 1929 was 1228; in 1930 the figure was 1672, and in 1931, 968. This latter figure is remarkable when general conditions are taken into account. Kimberley can, therefore, congratulate itself on its present production and wage condition. The present number of employees on full time would place Kimberley on a sound foot financially.—Kimberley Courier.

Chief of Police David Murdoch, at Kelowna, is charged with the murder of two persons.

Report comes from Ottawa that Dr. Charles Cammell, deputy minister of mines, and an outstanding member of the engineering profession of Canada, will be installed as president of the Engineering Institute of Canada at the annual general meeting of the institute in Toronto on February 2nd, succeeding S. G. Porter, of Calgary.

CHAPTER XI.

"The Sins of the Fathers—"

A few days later, Jean, coming from a long tramp across country in company with Nick and a half a dozen dogs of various breeds, discovered Tormarin lounging in a chair by the fire. He was in rising kit, having just returned from visiting an outlying corner of the estates where his bailiff had suggested that a new plantation might be made, and Jean eyed his long supple figure with secret approval. Like most well-built Englishmen, he looked his best in kit that demanded the donning of breeches and leggings.

A fine rain was falling out of doors, and beads of moisture clung to Jean's clothes and sparkled in the blown tendrils of russet hair which had escaped from beneath the little turban hat she was wearing. Apparently, however, her appearance did not rouse Tormarin to any reciprocal appreciation, for, after bestowing the briefest of glances upon her as she entered, he averted his eyes, concentrating his attention upon the misty rambles of his cigarette.

Jean knelt down on the hearth, and, putting off her rain-soaked gloves, held out her hands to the fire's cheerful blaze.

"It's good-bye to all the skating, isn't it?" she said regretfully.

"Nick says we're not likely to have another hard frost like the last, now that the weather has broken so completely."

"No, it's April next month—supposedly springtime, you know," returned Elaine indifferently.

He seemed disinclined to talk, and Jean eyed him contemplatively. His attitude towards her baffled her as much as ever. He was unfailingly courteous and considerate, but he remained, nevertheless, unmistakably aloof, avoiding her whenever it was possible, and when it was not, treating her with a cool neutrality of manner that was as complete a contrast to his demeanour when they were together at Montavan as could well be imagined. Indeed, sometimes Jean almost wondered if the events of that day they spent amid the snows had really taken place—they seemed so far away, so intimately unrelated to her present life, notwithstanding the fact that she was in daily contact with the man who had shared them with her.

"It was rather uncomplimentary of you not to come skating with us a solitary once," she remarked at last, as an accent of reproach in her voice. "Was my performance on the rink at Montavan so execrable that you felt you couldn't risk it again?"

He looked up, the trance meeting hers levelly.

"You've phrased it excellently," he replied briefly. "I felt I couldn't risk it."

A sudden flush mounted to Jean's face. There was no misunderstanding the significance that underlay the curt words, which, as she was vibrantly aware, bore no relation whatever to her skill, or absence of it, on the ice.

Blaise made no endeavour to relieve the awkward silence that ensued. Instead, his eyes rested upon her with a somewhat quizzical expression, as though he were rather entertained than otherwise by her evident confusion. Jean felt her indignation rising.

"It is fortunate that other people are not so nervous," she said disdainfully. "Otherwise I should find myself as isolated as a fever hospital."

"It is fortunate indeed," he agreed coolly.

In the course of the three weeks which had elapsed since her arrival at Staple, Jean had dared several similar passages-at-arms with her host. Women-like, she was bent on getting behind his guard of reticence, on forcing him into an explanation of his altered attitude towards her—since no woman can be expected to endure that a man should completely change from ill-suppressed ardour to a cool, impersonal detachment of manner without asking to know the reason why! But in every instance Tormarin had carried off the honours of war, parrying her small thrusts with a lazy insouciance which she found galling in the extreme.

Blaise, who had encountered little difficulty in getting pretty much her own way with the men of her acquaintance; she had sufficient of the temperance and charm of the red-haired type to compass that. But her efforts to elucidate the cause of the change in Blaise Tormarin went about as prolific of result as the efforts of a butterfly at stone-breaking.

Fortunately for the preservation of peace, at this juncture there came the sound of voices, and Lady Anne entered the room, accompanied by a visitor. Her clever, grey eyes flashed quickly from Jean's flushed face to that of her son, but, if she sensed the electricity in the atmosphere, she made no comment.

"Blaise, my dear, here is Judith," she said pleasantly. "I found her wandering forlornly in the lanes, so I drove her back here. She has just returned."

"Geoffrey? Oh, no. He's not coming down till the end of April. You know he beats Willow Ferry in the winter—'destiny wet swamp,' he calls it! He's dividing his time between London and Leicester—London, while that long frost stopped all hunting."

"Mrs. Craig was evidently on a footing of long-established intimacy with the Staple household, and Jean, listening quietly to the interchange of news and of little personal happenings, regarded her with rather critical interest. She was not altogether sure that she liked her, but she was quite sure that, wherever her lot might be cast, Judith Craig would never occupy the position of a non-entity. She had considerable charm of manner, and there was a quite unexpected fascination about her smile—unexpected, because, when in repose, her thin lips lay folded together in a straight and somewhat forbidding line, whereas the moment they relaxed into a smile they assumed the most delightful curves, and two little lines, which should have been dimples but were not, chief each cheek on either side of the mouth.

All at once Mrs. Craig turned to Jean as though she had made up her mind about something over which she had been hesitating.

"Have I seen you anywhere before?" she asked, her charming smile softening the abruptness of the question. "Your face is so extraordinarily familiar."

Jean shook her head.

"I don't think so," she answered. "I'm sure I should recognize you if we met anywhere. Besides I've lived abroad all my life; this is only my first visit to England."

"I think I can explain," said Lady Anne. There was a deliberateness about her manner that suggested she was about to make a statement which she was aware would be of some special interest to at least one of the turned from town, and for some reason her car wasn't at the station to meet her.

"I wired home saying what time I should reach Combe Eavie," exclaimed the new-comer. "But as I was rather late reaching Waterloo, I rashly entrusted the wire to a mail boy to send off for me, and I'm afraid he's played me false. I should have had to trudge the whole way back to Willow Ferry if Lady Anne hadn't happened along."

Lady Anne turned to Jean, and, laying an affectionate hand on her arm, drew her forward.

"Jean, let me introduce you to Mrs. Craig. My new acquisition, Judith," she went on contentedly. "A daughter, I always told you I wanted one. Now I've borrowed someone's else's."

Jean found herself shaking hands with a slender distinctive-looking woman who moved with a slow languorous grace that was almost snake-like in its peculiar suppleness. She gave one the impression that she had no bones in her body, or that if she had they had never hardened properly but still retained the pliability of cartilage.

She was somewhat sallow—the consequence, it transpired later, of long residence in India—with sullen, slate-coloured eyes, appearing almost purple in shadow, and a straight, thin-tipped mouth. Jean decided that she was not in the least pretty, though attractive in an odd, feline way, and that she must be about thirty-two. As a matter of fact, Judith Craig was forty, but no one would have guessed it—and she would certainly not have confessed it.

Presently Nick, who had been personally supervising the feeding of his beloved dogs, joined the party, greeting Mrs. Craig with the easy informality of an old friend, and shortly afterwards Elaine brought in the tea-things.

"And where is Burke?" enquired Blaise of Mrs. Craig, as he handed her tea. "Didn't he come back with you?"

"Geoffrey? Oh, no. He's not coming down till the end of April. You know he beats Willow Ferry in the winter—'destiny wet swamp,' he calls it! He's dividing his time between London and Leicester—London, while that long frost stopped all hunting."

Incident Of Laura Secord

Explanation Of Omission Of Narrative From Ontario Text Books

Omission of the story of Laura Secord from Ontario public and high schools' history and text books is the subject of a statement issued by Hon. Georges Henry, Premier of the Province and Minister of Education, in which he declares criticism is probably due to insufficient acquaintance with the facts.

"In the first place let me emphasize the fact that no intention of disparaging this incident of the trip of Laura Secord from Queenstown to Beaver Dam, and in the proposed revision of the third reader the officers of the department are suggesting that the story of Laura Secord be included," he said.

"The authorized text books, both public and high school, in Canadian history purposely emphasize parts of history other than wars in which Canada has engaged. For this reason the War of 1812-16 has been touched upon lightly, and many stories of brave deeds have necessarily been omitted," the Premier declares. Omission of the Laura Secord exploit from the new history compiled by Professor W. S. Wallace, librarian of the University of Toronto, brought the matter into prominence.

Rapid Air Travel

From Paris To New York In Six Hours Is Now Predicted

Air speeds of 500 miles an hour, cutting the time between New York and Paris to six hours, were predicted to be within the bounds of possibility by Henry Farman, aviation pioneer, work on whose stratosphere plane is now progressing at Billancourt, France.

It will be two months still before the "mystery ship" is completed and six months before tests at gradually increasing altitudes are finished.

Farman said it is necessary to guard against "fantastic dreams," but he thought 500 miles an hour at a height of between 45,000 and 60,000 feet theoretically possible, depending upon conditions in the stratosphere, which, he said, must be still further explored.

Yellow Peril Agony

A Japanese 'sea force' growing more rapidly than either the United States or British navies was cited by Chairman Hale of the U. S. Senate Naval Committee as a reason for building the United States fleet up to treaty limits.

Showing a man that he's wrong won't stop the argument. It will only make him more angry.

A Remarkable Century

Grand Old Man Of Woodstock Says Depression Is Only Artificial

In his annual birthday message to his fellow citizens, appearing in the Sentinel Review, Rev. Dr. W. T. McMullen, Woodstock's "Grand Old Man," who recently celebrated his 101st birthday anniversary, says in part:

"The century through which I have lived is the most remarkable in all history with the exception of the first century. The Incarnation, ministry and finished work of the Saviour makes the first century the greatest of all centuries, but in point of inventions, progress and general improvement the last hundred years has no parallel. When King William IV. filled the throne of Britain, when I was born, there was not a railroad in England, Scotland or Ireland. There were no steamships sailing the ocean. There were no telegraphs or telephones, no electric lighting. The postage on a letter from Canada to Britain was 25 cents.

"The present generation do not know their comforts and privileges, and yet we are passing through a time of depression. But it is purely artificial. The bounties of Divine Providence have filled to overflowing our storehouses and elevators. But the works of men have blocked the channels of trade with high tariffs, and glutted the markets with over-production. Conditions will right themselves in due course."

Little Helps For This Week

"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me."—Luke ix. 23.

Mine is a daily cross of petty cares. Of little duties pressing on my heart. Of little troubles hard to reconcile. Of inward troubles overcome in part.

I dare not lay it down: I only ask That, taking up my daily cross, I follow My Master, humbly, step by step.

Through clouds and darkness, unto perfect day.

Christ comes to us morning, by morning to present to us for the day then opening—divers little crosses, thwartings of our own will, interferences with our plans, disappointments of our little pleasures. Do we kiss them, and take them up and follow in His rear, like Simon the Cyrenian; or do we toss them from us scornfully because they are so little, and wait for some great affliction to approve our patience and resignation to His will? Despite not little crosses when taken up and lovingly accepted at the Lord's hand, they have made men meet for a crown, even the crown of righteousness and life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love Him.—Edward Meyrick Gouldburn.

Burns' night is to be celebrated in the usual elaborate manner at Bellevue on Monday next.

Mrs. Alphonse Fabro, of Kimberley, was a visitor with her mother, Mrs. Pozzi, the early part of the week.

Miss May Maltman, of the Cranbrook high school teaching staff, was a week end guest here of Miss M. Chardon.

Remember the big Fun Night at the local arena on Saturday, sponsored by the Cricket Club and the Band.

"The thing that touched me most," said the minister after the donation, "was when little Freda Brown walked up and laid an egg with the other offerings."

The many friends of Constable J. Cawsey, the Alberta Provincial Police representative at Pincher Creek, will be pleased to learn that he has been promoted to the rank of corporal.

Corbin Cougars will meet the Blairmore Miners at the local arena tonight. These two teams are well matched and all fans should see tonight's go. They battled to a one-one draw in an overtime game at Corbin.

Two youthful bandits entered the Terminal Garage at Lethbridge on Monday night, shot the proprietor through the shoulder, robbed the till and the pockets of two customers and made their getaway in a large high-powered car.

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Town of Blairmore and Blairmore School District 628 will be held on Friday night of next week. Nominations and elections will take place on the first and second Mondays in February, respectively.

W. H. Chappell has decided to retire definitely from school board activities. Mr. Chappell has been a member of the Blairmore school board for quite a number of years, prior to which he served as secretary-treasurer and board member at Bellevue.

Since the report published in our issue of contributions toward the Blairmore Miners' Christmas Tree, we are informed that an additional amount of $54.00 has been turned in by the West Canadian Collieries Ltd., bringing the total to $327 from that company's staff.

The Blairmore Hardware Company have moved into new premises, at the corner of Eighth Avenue and Victoria Street (formerly the Moose and Elk's hall). The new premises are being renovated and made quite attractive and we bespeak for the Hardware an increased volume of business in their new home.

In the back of a hymn book the other day we found the words printed: "Not published by the Alberta Liquor Control Board or by the Government of the Province of Alberta." And we consider such notice just as wisely placed as at the foot of an ordinary liquor ad, for the people of Alberta should know by now that the former government of this province is not advertising liquor.

A most enjoyable social evening was spent last night in the Castle hall at Hillcrest, sponsored by the members of Turtle Mountain Lodge Knights of Pythias and Mizpah Temple of Pythian Sisters. In addition to local members, about seventy brothers and sisters from Blairmore and Coleman were in attendance. A snappy programme of songs, readings, speeches, etc., was carried out under the chairmanship of Bro. A. N. Warner, followed by a sumptuous luncheon and dancing.

The Coleman Canadians were defeated 4-3 by Fernie on Tuesday night at Fernie.

At Cranbrook, all old members of the council and school board were re-elected to office.

Fred J. White, M.L.A., of Calgary, has been re-elected president of the Alberta Federation of Labor.

A dance, under the auspices of the L.O.D.E., will be held in the Lodge Hall on Saturday, February the 13th, Arcadians' orchestra in attendance.

Did you hear about the Blairmore currier, a slave to gambling, who forgot his broom and rock and headed for the Coleman bospital with a deck of cards?

Rev. Roy C. Taylor, B.A., B.D., popular pastor of First United church at Lethbridge and formerly of Hillcrest, has tendered his resignation, to take effect the end of June.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Greener, of Hillcrest, Alta., wish their many friends to know they gave no party whatever Xmas Holidays, or any other time, and ask that The Enterprise correspondent be careful in selecting his or her news in future.

Announcement is made this week that the local store of Burns & Co. Ltd., has been transferred to Mr. Jas. Milne, who has been the congenial manager for the past several years. We bespeak for Mr. Milne success and a goodly share of local patronage.

Col. Hugh Clark remarks: One difference between men and women is that when men want to do a thing they don't talk about it—they go and do it. That's correct. When winter comes, men don't say: "Let's go and get crazy about hockey." They go and do it.

Rev. Roy Taylor has one distinction that out-distances all the other pedes who are quitting the city: He is a native Albertan. There are few ministers in the province who can lay claim to Alberta as their birthplace. Mr. Taylor is a community man too, active and influential in organizations outside the church. He is studious and ambitious, also, for he obtained his B.D. degree by studying in the spare moments of a pastorate that demanded pulpit service and heavy pastoral work—Lethbridge Herald.
